Is there a story inside of you longing to come out? This class is your opportunity to put it on the page. Creative non-fiction is the practice of writing personal stories in a dramatic and imaginative way, using tools of fiction while staying true to the facts. Through in-class writing exercises, class discussions, sharing and critiquing each other's work, and assigned readings, students will work their way up to the completion of a final story/essay that has deep, personal meaning for them. Though we will examine craft, the primary focus of the course will be on self-expression and personal growth through writing our stories.
